Designing Community Focused Surveys

Let the community speak for itself.

We should not be making any “conclusions”

Main points

1. Test your survey!

2. We are here to listen and empower NOT take information and leave.

3. Acknowledge and try to avoid as much bias as possible

4. Keep it short.

#1 Reason why you should test your survey....

Respecting the community.

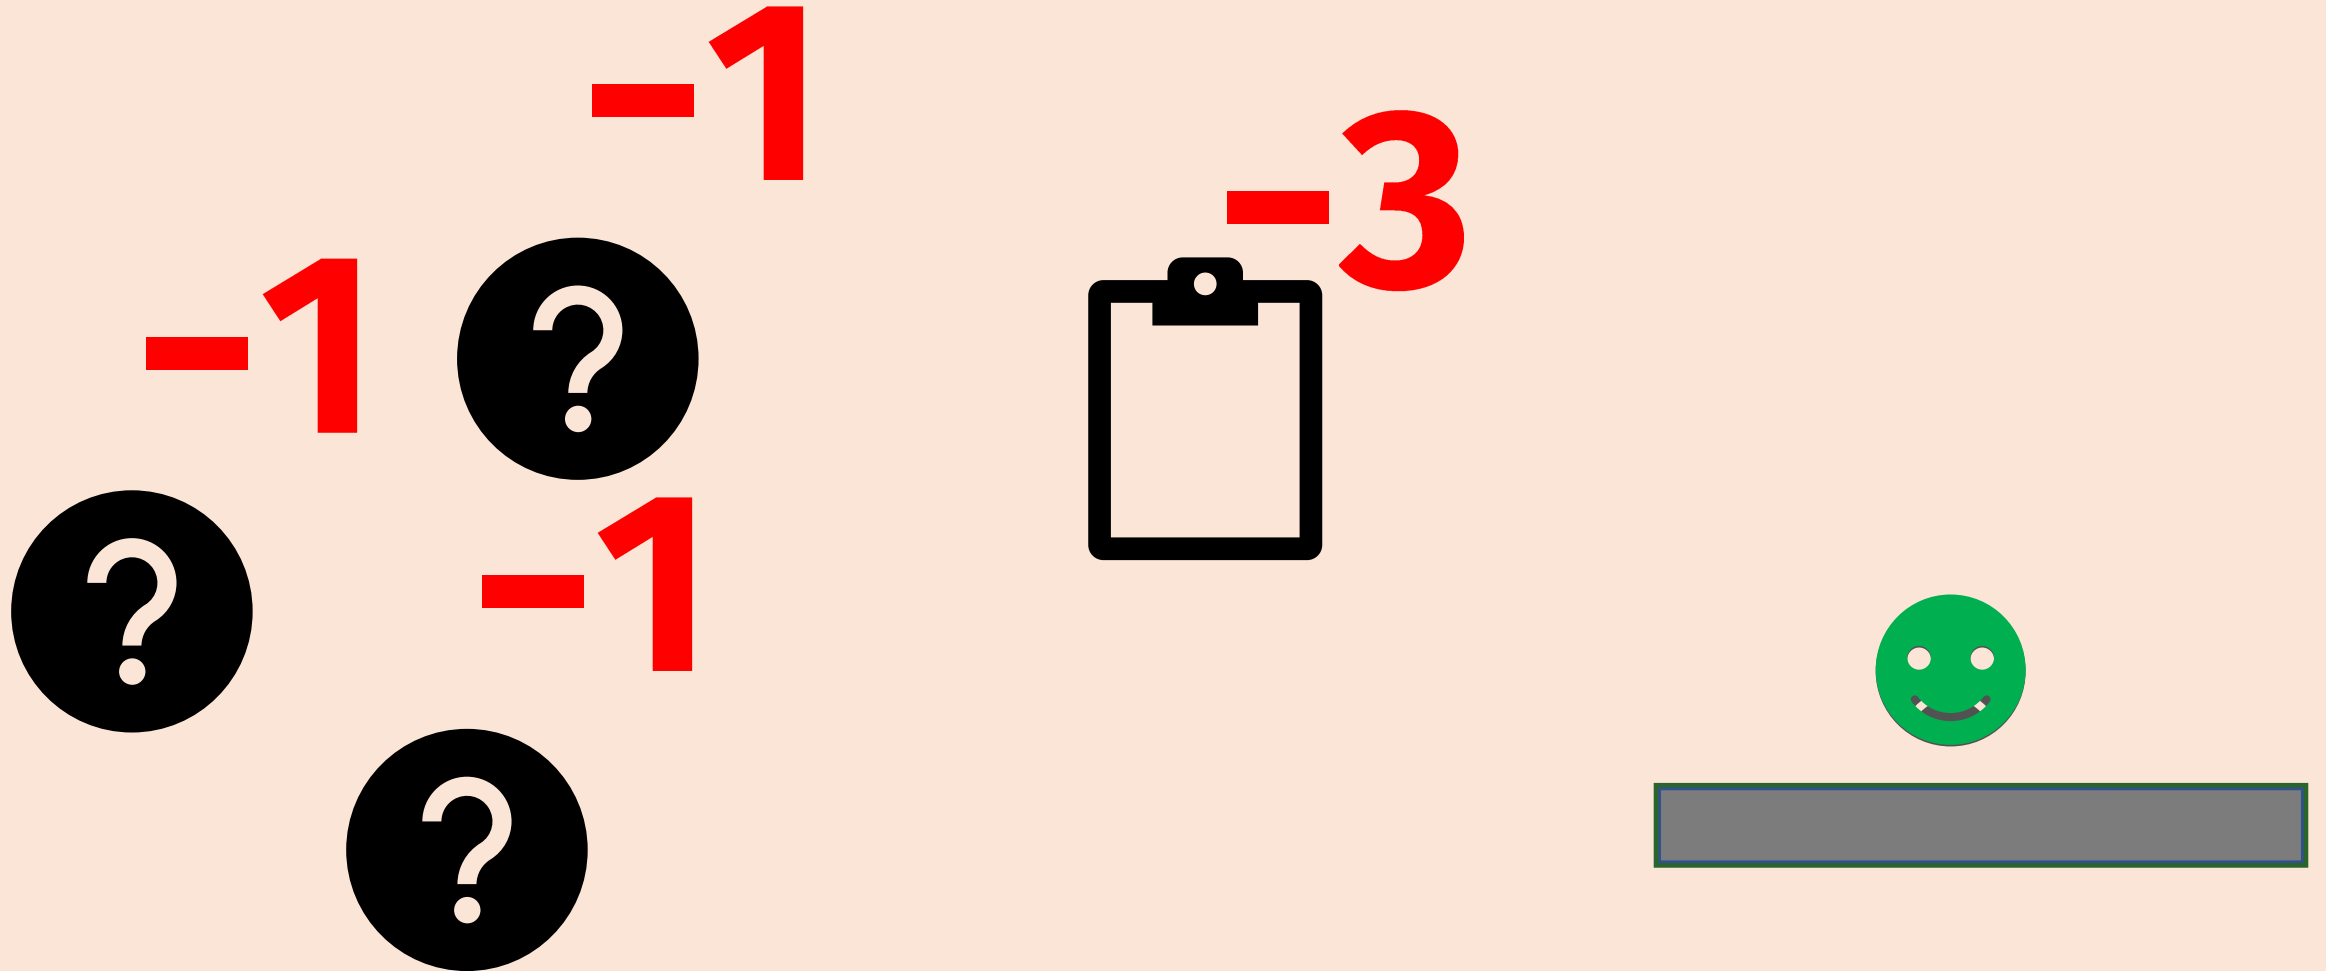

Checking for respect

- Each question MUST have an important purpose
- If a question is not necessary, DO NOT ask it because it would be “nice to know”.
- Less is more.
- Remember: Each question takes someone’s time
- Remember: Each survey to contributes to survey fatigue

WHAT IS SURVEY FATIGUE?

Would you like to complete the daily Symptom Monitor questions today?

Yes - I need to gain clearance to enter a UCLA site today.

No - I am done and do not need to enter a UCLA site today.

Please click ALL REGIONS that you will visit today:

(If you are unsure where your building is located, click all of the regions where you think it is located. Otherwise, your building will not show in the lists on the next page.)

If your location is OUTSIDE of this map, but you still will be at a UCLA site, select REGION M.

A note about survey fatigue

Every survey taken reduces the chance the same person will take a survey in the future.

Make your survey pleasant and meaningful for everyone, another chance may not come.

#2 - We are hear 2 listen

How we listen is important

- Access to internet may be limited
- Language barriers
- Dependent on networking
- Limits to the above could create skewed responses

How we listen is important

- Focus on open-ended questions.
- Do not “lead” (i.e. try to get a specific answer) in questions both open-ended and closed.
- If you must include closed-ended, do not have:
 - Tons of options
 - Long options

Example about language barriers

Doing better

STOP AAPI HATE

Our communities stand united against racism. Hate against Asian American Pacific Islander communities has risen during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Together, we can stop it.

Microsoft Forms still requires connecting to Google Spreadsheet

So while it's better for multi-language but more complicated to set up for what we'll be doing.

#3 Minimizing Bias

THE CONFIRMATION BIAS

Critical warning: Who determines what is factual?

What is bias?

Preset notions and values. We all have biases!!!
But we can learn more from people and ourselves when we set aside our own bias and listen.

We should challenge our biases because.....

- Social problems are difficult to solve if we keep assuming (wrong) things.
- To facilitate social change better, we need to start breaking down those assumptions.

How to minimize bias?

First and foremost, emphasize listening:

It is impossible to understand every social problem, but we can start to address societal issues by listening to the people affected without assumptions first.

Minimizing bias

Avoid jargon = Ask simple questions with simple wording

Avoid assumptions = Do not assume people know about your issue

Avoid leading = Do not use subjective claims

Define definitions = Explain terms if you must use them

#4 Keep it Short

Keep it short 4 you and 4 them

Keeping it short

A shorter survey = more space to share people's stories

Tie each question to who you are looking to empower

Open-ended questions = community members can take more time to respond if they want to

Main Takeaway of Survey Design

Be respectful.
